Key issues relating to finance
in the construction industry.

EVERSHEDS
O'DONNELL SWEENEY

Eversheds O'Donnell Sweeney would like to invite you to an interactive seminar to look at the key issues relating to finance in the construction industry at this challenging time.

We will consider how to satisfy the new funding demands so that your project gets across the line, how to certify payments without breaching your duties as the lead design professional and how to use the contract to ensure that you get paid. We will run-through a case study, identifying areas of prevalence and will offer solutions to day to day problems.

DATE	Tuesday, 24th March 2009	VENUE	The Conrad Hotel
TIME	07.30 - 8.00am - Breakfast 08.00 - 9.30am - Workshop	DRESS	Business

RSVP Please RSVP by Thursday, 19th March 2009 to Helen Corrigan at 01 6644211 or hcorrigan@eversheds.ie

SPEAKERS

Chris Wheeler joined Eversheds O'Donnell Sweeney in January 2008 having previously gained five years dispute, contract, and project procurement experience in a wide range of matters particularly in the area of construction, transport and PPPs. Chris is qualified as a solicitor in Ireland, Ontario, England and Wales. Chris worked for 7 years in construction law and insurance defence as a barrister in Canada. He has also lectured at Dublin University on Construction Law as well as on behalf of the Department of Finance on new government forms of contracts and conditions of engagement.

Dermot McEvoy an experienced and savvy commercial litigator and an accredited mediator, Dermot advises clients on commercial property disputes and commercial litigation issues generally. In addition, Dermot has a strong practice in the specialist areas of construction litigation and arbitration. He represents employers, promoters, construction companies and other professional service providers in a wide range of contentious disputes. Dermot is a recommended individual in Dispute Resolution in Chambers Global 2007 and 2008 and in PLC Which Lawyer? 2007.

Mark Varian specialises in construction, projects and PPP law. He has acted for developers, employers, banks and contractors in some of the largest and most complex building and engineering projects undertaken in the State. He has also advised on the commercial aspects of many transactions in the telecoms, renewable energy, transport, waste and oil and gas sectors. Mark has been recommended in Chambers Global 2007 and 2008 in both Real Estate and Banking and Finance.
